

A Weekend of Traditional Appalachian Mountain Circle and Square Dancing
with Top Notch Callers and Bands

Kathy Anderson (Dayton, Ohio)

Known for her exciting squares, quirky contras, and swift, clear teaching, Kathy has long been a favorite caller across the U.S., Canada, and Europe. We loved her last year and invited her back.

Scott Russell (Atlanta)

Scott possesses a trove of great old-time dances and teaches them with clarity, brevity, and wit. For the past 40 years he has danced, called, collected, and played for American, Canadian, Irish, and English dances. As a founder of Georgy-Alabam he's been a crucial part of all our good times.

The Red Mountain Yellowhammers
(Birmingham)

Long known as the Red Mountain White Trash, they've lately come up with a more politically correct name, but their music is still distinctively raucous and makes you move.

The Hick Hoppers (Atlanta)

When you hear the Hoppers you'll swear you've time-travelled to the 1920's and are dancing to Gid Tanner, Riley Puckett and the Skillet Lickers. Mick Kinney and his boys are old-time musical treasures.

Pretty Little Goat (Brevard, NC)

This young southern string band offers an irresistible blend of good musicianship and high spirits. The Goats get folks dancing with their unique twist on old-time tunes and originals inspired by the deep well of tradition from the mountains they call home.

❧ LODGING ❧

You are responsible for your own lodging.

The park offers reasonably priced hotel rooms, cabins, chalets and campgrounds near Bald Rock Lodge. Check out the options at www.alapark.com/cheaharesort, then call 256-488-5115 or e-mail cheaha.groupres@dcnr.alabama.gov to make reservations. Be sure to say you are attending Georgy-Alabam and give our group number 1798.

Cheaha State Park is holding hotel rooms, cabins and chalets until November 30 for our group. After that date lodging may not be available, so reserve before November 30.

Communal floor space is available in Bald Rock Lodge for $20 for the weekend and is arranged through Gordon Graham (see his contact info to the right).

❧ MEALS ❧

We will provide a hearty breakfast Saturday and Sunday mornings and offer after-dance snacks. Friday supper and all lunches are on your own. You may use the kitchen in the lodge for food preparation and there is a restaurant in the park. We share a potluck meal on Saturday night. Please bring a dish to share.
